

Pearl Harbor

By Dr. R. Pletsch

The words Pearl Harbor bring about many thoughts. But it continues today to tell the story of the American Spirit. One of the many sad stories of that attack was the sinking of the USS Oklahoma. Many of you have seen movies about the attack. The Oklahoma was the ship hit by torpedoes and was capsized and a desperate effort was made to save sailors and marines who were trapped in the upside down ship as welders unsuccessfully tried to cut holes into the hull.

The official total of those killed on the Oklahoma was 429. Of those about 35 were almost immediately identified. The rest were buried in The National Memorial Cemetery in the Pacific, which is in an extinct volcano crater in Honolulu. With the present day ability of forensic scientist and their work with DNA about 388 of those that died on The Oklahoma are being exhumed from 46 plots in that cemetery in hopes to identify as many as possible. This is one of those intangibles that Americans expect. "We leave no one behind". While this is not always possible, there are always those trying to complete this pledge. There are still people trying to identify remains in Viet Nam.

It has recently been reported that these forensic scientists have identified about 100 that were killed in the USS Oklahoma. After the families have been notified they have the opportunity to bring back the remains to a location of the families' choosing. The process is one of great solemnity and respect. Our young ones should realize that this "grateful nation" goes on forever.

Just a note on this 76th anniversary of The Day of Infamy, about 2400 died at Pearl Harbor with about 1200 on the USS Arizona and 400 on the USS Oklahoma. If you go to Hawaii, you should, as do most Americans and Japanese, pay the respect at Pearl. We, as a family, have visited American military cemeteries in Italy and Normandy. I hope I taught my children well. They are great places to pray for peace.

Sones de Mexico Plans Gala Event

Sones de México Ensemble, will celebrate 23 years in service of Mexican music and culture at the National Museum of Mexican Art, 1852 W. 19th st., on Saturday, Dec. 9th at 6 p.m. The gala event, titled ¡Que Florezca! (Let it Bloom) after their first album, will take as its theme the creative blossoming of the organization as a champion of Mexican folk music and culture.

"Flowers have a symbolic meaning in Mexican culture," adds Juan Dies, co-founder and executive director of Sones de México. "They represent a compliment, poetry and song, love, youth, fertility, death and rebirth."

Henry Roa and his late wife Juanita of Brighton Park have long been advocates of Mexican folk music and dance in Chicago. The couple will be presented with Sones de México's first ever Keepers of Culture Award for a lifetime of service to Chicago's Mexican-American community that included a role in the development of seminal organizations like Cuerdas Clásicas and the Mexican Folkloric Dance Company of Chicago. Mr. Roa has served on Sones de México's Board of Directors since 1998. The silent auction will include such rare items as a vintage guitarrron built by luthier Roberto Morales, a signed and numbered print by Mexican muralist David Alfaro Siqueiros, and a 5-night stay at a private three bedroom home in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. For those who can't attend the gala, supporters may bid on items in advance online at sonesdemexico.com/auction.

A 5-course menu will be created by Chef Dudley Nieto, with each course utilizing flower essences from Mexico and inspired by the four themes that Sones de México Ensemble used in structuring the ¡Que Florezca! album: Concheros, Huapango, Mariachi and Negritude. Each symbolizes the three major ethnic contributions to Mexican culture.

The evening will conclude with an intimate recital by Sones de México Ensemble. For more information, visit www.sonesdemexico.com.

Pop-Up Programs At Planetarium

This winter break (Dec. 26th-30th) guests visiting the Adler Planetarium can enjoy STEAM-focused (science, technology, engineering, art, and math) programming during its second annual Pop-Up Programs event. Each day, three to four programs designed to spark engagement, curiosity, and fun for the whole family will "pop-up" throughout the museum.

Projects include: Project Exploration, Our Solar System, 1 to 4 p.m. Interact with several engineering challenges in a fun and engaging way, and build something to take home.

Saturday, Dec. 30th: Engineering for Kids, Curiosity Classroom, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. as well as science experiments, technology and coding, dancing and physical games, and other hands-on activities. For more information, visit: <http://www.adlerplanetarium.org/events/pop-up-programs/>

The schedule as of Dec. 4th includes: Tuesday, Dec. 26th - Pumping Station: One, Curiosity Classroom, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Explore various ways of making things move with simple and clever machines, with and without technology.

Crazy 8s Math Club, Our Solar System, 1 to 3 p.m. Do the math to make your own Origami shooting stars and see how far they can fly.

Power Up Tech Academy, Mission Moon, 2 to 4 p.m. Write your own animations and games that guide a rocket to land safely on the Moon.

Wednesday, Dec. 27th Seventh Green Circle, Curiosity Classroom, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Art Sculpture: Create "space" in an artistic and unique way by using colorful paper and watercolor pencils to create transparency and an organic feel.

Wonder Works Children's Museum, Planet Explorers, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Investigate and identify a variety of rocks. You'll even get a rock to take home.

TechGirlz, Mission Moon, 1 to 3 p.m. Learn to program an Edison robot using EdBlocks and an iPad.

SciTech Hands on Museum, Our Solar System, 2 to 4 p.m. Topology: various hands-on activities, including large and small puzzles, that dive into the study of interacting solids as they fold and bend.

Thursday, Dec. 28th: Project SYNCERE, Curiosity Classroom, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Using the Engineering Design Process (and the materials provided), you will design, construct, and test a wind-powered car.

High Touch - High Tech, Mission Moon, 12 to 2 p.m. Edison's Workshop: Explore the amazing world of electricity. Learn what's "current" as you build circuits and much more.

Design Dance, Our Solar System, 2 to 4 p.m. Move your way through the Solar System! Play games, learn movement, and work together to demonstrate and gain an understanding of planetary motion.

Analytics Lounge, Atwood Hallway, 1 to 4 p.m. What's it Made of?: Explore what things around us -- including historical artifacts, rocks, and coins -- are made of using portable X-Ray fluorescence.

Friday, Dec. 29th: NeuroKitchen's Curiosity Club, Curiosity Classroom, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Come explore Dark Matter and discover the invisible web that supports the structures of the Cosmos on the largest scales. You will help to build a large, three-dimensional fabric installation representing Dark Matter, and decorate it with tiny galaxies.

Steve and Kate's Camp, Mission Moon, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Create a space-themed stop motion animation movie. You get to choose your characters, setting, and how long or short you want it to be.

Project Exploration, Our Solar System, 1 to 4 p.m. Interact with several engineering challenges in a fun and engaging way, and build something to take home.

Saturday, Dec. 30th: Engineering for Kids, Curiosity Classroom, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. as well as science experiments, technology and coding, dancing and physical games, and other hands-on activities. For more information, visit: <http://www.adlerplanetarium.org/events/pop-up-programs/>

Mentoring Program Seeks Volunteers

Catholic Charities Youth Mentorship Program is recruiting mentors to work with tenth boys in 8th through 10th grades in the Back of the Yards and New City communities.

Mentors are encouraged to seek out low-cost activities such as, playing basketball, working on school projects, exploring a new ethnic restaurant in the area, grabbing a cup of hot chocolate, or taking advantage of free activities in the community. A Catholic Charities Mentor coordinator offers guidance and training, suggest age appropriate activities, and help mentors develop a strong relationship with their mentee.

Mentors must: be at least 21 years old; commit to a minimum of a one year relationship, meeting five hours per month; have reliable transportation and submit to a criminal background check.

Contact Viridiana Godinez at (630) 229-5335 or vgodinez@catholiccharities.net.

Z. MADERE

By Joe Oswald

For some people becoming a policeman or a fireman is just a job. For others it is a calling. For Zoe Madere, a junior at Thomas Kelly High School, the call to duty is a proud family tradition. Zoe has multiple family members with careers in public service both in Chicago and California.

Zoe always knew she wanted to wear the uniform of a policeman or fireman. When asked why she wanted to join the Chicago Police and Firefighter Training Academy, Zoe responded that she "wanted to follow in the footsteps of my other family members who devoted their lives to public safety and service."

When she was a sophomore at Kelly she got the information about the CPFTA program from her counselor and filled out the application. She was accepted into the firefighter training program her junior year. The Chicago Police and Firefighter Training Academy provides training for students interested in careers in public safety, law enforcement, criminal justice, and fire science. The CPFTA is a two-year program that fulfills the two career education or elective credits that all CPS high school students need to graduate.

The Chicago Police and Firefighter Training Academy only accepts about 250 students each year from all over the city. Students who are interested have to apply their sophomore year, and if they are accepted, the program starts their junior year. As a cadet in the firefighter training program, Zoe goes to the fire academy after school two days a week to train and study. According to Zoe, "the academy prepares the cadets mentally and physically and trains them to hold respect, honor, and integrity for a job that demands a lot of responsibility and discipline." According to Zoe, "as first responders people are placing their lives in the hands of firefighters and policemen, and we have to live up to the responsibility. The academy helps instill the type of discipline and integrity needed for such an important role in society."

Cadets in the program receive transportation assistance to get to either the Police Academy or the Fire Academy after school. Cadets are also eligible to participate in a paid summer internship between junior and senior year and for financial assistance to attend one of the City Colleges of Chicago to complete an Associate's Degree after high school. They can also earn OSHA, Cyber Security Safety, Unarmed Security Guard and CPR/FA/AED certifications with instructional materials provided at no extra cost. Cadets can also apply to take the EMT-B state licensure class for state certification.

A typical day at the academy includes a lot of physical conditioning, such as running, doing push-ups, suicide runs, planks, squats, bear walks, burpies, and jumping jacks. They also take classes in fire science, first aid, and other aspects of public safety. Cadets are expected to be in proper uniform and act in a respectable manner when they arrive at the academy each day. Zoe said it is all a lot of hard work but knows it will all be worth it, and she values the experience and training she is getting.

The CPFTA program is just one program students at Kelly High School have been taking advantage of the last several years. With courses ranging from accounting,

Joins Firefighter Training

entrepreneurship, archaic drafting, computer programming, and digital media classes, to Advanced Placement and Dual Credit classes where students earn college credit while in high school, students at Kelly find a full range of programs to suit their high school, college preparatory, and vocational interests. Kelly also has an acclaimed International Baccalaureate program that was featured on Channel 11's Chicago Tonight television show and attracts students from around the city for a rigorous and internationally recognized academic curriculum that studies have shown to produce students who are more prepared for success at the college level than students who are not in such a program.

Zoe is proud to be in the fire training academy and also proud to attend Kelly High School. She said she was fortunate to attend Kelly because the school offers such as wide-range of classes for students and because it is a school that has always supported the CPFTA program.

Holiday Magic At Brookfield Zoo

Brookfield Zoo's 36th annual Holiday Magic presented by ComEd and Meijer, offers guests 12 enchanted evenings to enjoy the lights and so much more from 4 to 9 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays, through Dec. 17th and the week of Dec. 26th-31st.

Zoogers can enjoy caroling to the animals, live entertainment, professional ice-carving demonstrations, visits with Santa and Mrs. Claus (through Dec. 17th) and more than 600 lit community-decorated trees that line the malls. Around Roosevelt Fountain, nearly 60 local corporations decorated "dancing" trees that will be set to holiday-themed tunes, and the 41-foot-tall Talking Tree is back to interact with guests.

Guests can enjoy visiting animal habitats, restaurants, and gift shops. A packed schedule of music and live entertainment in the Holly Jolly Theater, magic shows, costumed characters, and a model railroad display will add to the festivities.

Through Dec. 18th, youngsters can share their wish lists and pose for pictures with Santa and Mrs. Claus in the North Pole workshop located in the Seven Seas Underwater Viewing gallery. Photos can be taken with some of the animal ambassadors. Many habitats, including Great Bear Wilderness, Big Cats, Tropic World, The Swamps, Birds and Reptiles, Feathers and Scales, The Living Coast, The Fragile Kingdom, Hamill Family Wild Encounters, and Hamill Family Play Zoo, will be open and illuminated to view favorite animals. Guests can sing along with carolers to serenade the bears, camels, and big cats. Each night there will be informal Zoo Chats presented by staff, who will share fun facts and information about some of the animals they care for. Zoogers can also attend a 6 p.m. Dolphins in Action.

The Holiday Magic festivities come to a close on Saturday, Dec. 31st, when everyone is invited to ring in the New Year. A DJ will have the Holly Jolly Theater rockin' and rollin' with music, fun games, party favors, prizes, and more beginning at 6 p.m. Families with younger children can head to Hamill Family Play Zoo, where kids can make noisemakers and enjoy an early kid-friendly countdown at 8 p.m.

For more information and a schedule of activities and entertainment, visit CZS.org/Holiday Magic or call (708) 688-8000.

Guests should park in the main parking lot (First Avenue and 31st Street). Activities are free with paid admission (with the exception of in-park activities and photo opportunities). Regular admission is $19.85 for adults and $14.50 for children ages 3-11 and seniors 65 and older. Children 2 and under are free. Car parking is $12. Discounted tickets may be purchased at any Meijer location.

Science Films At Planetarium

The REEL Science Film Series is returning to the Adler Planetarium this fall. The popular series combines cinematic favorites with science conversations about the film—providing a unique opportunity to decipher fact versus Hollywood's creative liberties.

Doors for each event open at 5:30 p.m. and will include fun, pre-movie trivia and videos, a screening of the film, followed by a post-show, "Reel Science" Q&A with Adler scientists and special guests. Refreshments will be available for purchase.

Friday, Jan. 12th: Arrival (PG-13). When twelve mysterious spacecraft appear around the world, linguistics professor Louise Banks is tasked with interpreting the language of the apparent alien visitors.

Friday, Feb. 9th: WALL-E (G). In the distant future, a small waste-collecting robot inadvertently embarks on a space journey that will ultimately decide the fate of mankind.

Thursday, March 8: Demolition Man (R). A police officer is brought out of suspended animation in prison to pursue an old ultra-violent nemesis who is loose in a nonviolent future society.

Tickets are $15 General Admission Adult and $12 Child (up to age 11).

For more information, and to purchase tickets, visit: <http://www.adlerplanetarium.org/whats-here/reel-science/>.

Homework Help At Brighton Library

Completion For Reservoir Project

Congressman Dan Lipinski joined with officials from the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago, and U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, to announce the completion of McCook Reservoir Stage 1, a 3.5 billion gallon section of the McCook Reservoir, part of the Tunnel and Reservoir Plan.

As the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee was drafting the 2016 Water Resources Development Act, which was signed into law last year, Lipinski secured a provision that prioritized funding and accelerated the construction timeline for the next flood control project, McCook Reservoir Stage II.

When that project is completed, the reservoir will have a total storage capacity of 10 billion gallons and deliver an additional $143 million per year in flood reduction benefits.

TARP is one of the country's largest public works projects for flood control and pollution. It covers a 375-square-mile area that includes Chicago and 51 suburbs that rely on a combined collection system.

Poetry Contest Names Winners

Secretary of State and State Librarian Jesse White awarded poets from Chicago and Carbondale as this year's winners of the Gwendolyn Brooks Poetry Award in the 13th annual Illinois Emerging Writers Competition.

Anita Olivia Koester of Chicago was awarded first place for her poem "Avowal." Faisal Mohyuddin of Chicago received second place for his poem "Ella Fitzgerald, Entering Chicago by Train, Remembers Her Mother's Voice." Bryce Berkowitz of Carbondale is the third-place winner for his poem "Explain Yourself." The winners read their poems and received the awards during a ceremony at the Illinois State Library.

The competition is named for the late Pulitzer Prize-winning Poet Laureate Gwendolyn Brooks and is co-sponsored by the Illinois Center for the Book and Kevin Stein, Poet Laureate.

The winning poems are available to read at http://cyberdriveillinois.com/departments/library/enter\_for\_the\_book/. The winning poems will be submitted to the "Ninth Letter," "RHINO" and "Quiddity" magazines and "Poetic License Press" publications.

Dollar Tree Aids Operation Homefront

Operation Homefront and Dollar Tree Inc. will once again join forces to make the holidays brighter for military families with the nonprofit's Holiday Toy Drive. Customers can purchase toys for military kids, easing the financial burdens that accompany holiday season for junior- and mid-grade (E1-E6) service members and their families.

Dollar Tree stores will have collection boxes for purchased toys which will be collected by Operation Homefront volunteers for distribution at holiday events.

Operation Homefront.org also accepts online contributions for its programs to stable and secure military families.

Madigan Issues Shopping Guide

Attorney General Lisa Madigan has released her 10th Anniversary Safe Shopping Guide highlighting hazardous toys, children's products and household items that have been recalled over the past year.

Some of the products parents should watch out for include fidget spinners that pose choking hazards to children as old as 14, toys and jewelry with excessive levels of lead, hover boards that can overheat and catch on fire and infant clothing with snaps and buttons that can detach and pose a choking hazard.

Consumers can view and download the guide at ag.state.il.us. For more information about product recalls, contact 1-888-414-7678. Parents and caregivers can also receive recall alerts directly by signing up at recalls.gov.
