

Steel Mesh Safety Gloves

Highest Level of Protection in Cutting Operations

Our mesh safety gloves are constructed of high tensile strength, corrosion-resistant stainless steel rings. Each ring is individually welded for maximum strength and flexibility, providing the highest level of protection against cut, slash and laceration hazards in cutting operations.

Ergonomic Design for Optimal Fit and Comfort

Tapered glove fingers, glove bodies contoured to the shape of the hand, aprons and sleeves with elasticized or mesh straps to comfortably distribute weight. All of our products have been engineered to maximize wearer comfort. Gloves are easily reversible, thus significantly reducing inventory carrying costs.
