There is a drastic difference between the design of a human baby's brain and the design of a baby turtle's brain.

This 6 minute Video will amaze you: <https://vimeo.com/537014165>

Video Transcript: Our human newborn Augie Nelson's current abilities are somewhat limited. He can cry, sleep, eat, and hiccup. The turtle, also newly hatched, can crawl separate from her siblings and begin a vast transatlantic migration alone without parents or learning. Her brain has already formed every connection she'll need for the great journey ahead. Seven months later, Auggie is learning to sit up. In a year or so he'll be walking. Another decade, he'll be walking to school by himself. By that time, the turtle will have completed a solo 9,000 mile circumnavigation of the Sargasso Sea and returned to the shores where she was born to build her own nest. The turtle's brain was designed to masterfully navigate the ocean, but Augie's human brain and was designed to adapt to any environment, play any instrument, calculate the existence of a spacetime singularity, navigate the Atlantic by himself if he wants. Everything he needs to learn these things is already there.

The definition of neurospiritual is a combination of neuroscience and God's Word.

Neurospiritual Scriptures discuss the human brain (heart, mind, soul).

Psalm 139:13,14 is a neurospiritual passage because it describes how “wonderfully” God “made” the human brain. The functional design of the human brain is the most “marvelous” biological creation in the universe.

Ephesians 2:10 is a neurospiritual Scripture because it is about how God designed the human brain to function spiritually. Regarding the human brain, God's spiritual design is much more marvelous!

Romans 7:22,23 is a neurospiritual passage because it refers to “the law of God according to the inward man,” which implies that God created the human brain. He designed how the human heart and mind works and how we should maintain it:

Romans 7:22-23

²²For I delight in the law of God after the inward man: ²³But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.

Test & Answers

Define neurospiritual:

The definition of neurospiritual is a combination of Neuroscience and God's Word.

What are neurospiritual Scriptures?

Neurospiritual Scriptures are those that discuss the human brain (heart, mind, soul).

Why is Psalm 139:13,14 a neurospiritual Scripture?

Psalm 139:13,14 is a neurospiritual passage because it describes how "wonderfully" God "made" the human brain. The functional design of the human brain is the most "marvelous" biological creation in the universe.

"For You formed my inward parts; You covered me in my mother's womb. I will praise You, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made; Marvelous are Your works, and that my soul knows very well." Psalm 139:13,14

Why is Ephesians 2:10 a neurospiritual Scripture?

Ephesians 2:10 is a neurospiritual Scripture because it is about how God designed the human brain to function spiritually. Regarding the human brain, God's spiritual design is much more marvelous!

“For we are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand that we should walk in them.” Ephesians 2:10

Why is Romans 7:22,23 a neurospiritual Scripture?

Romans 7:22,23 is a neurospiritual passage because it refers to “the law of God according to the inward man,” which implies that God created the human brain. He designed how the human heart and mind works and how we should maintain it:

“For I delight in the law of God according to the inward man. But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.” Romans 7:22,23
