

Fireworks and special effects for Groups and Conventions
MICE

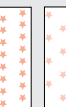

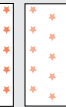

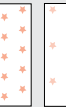

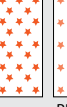

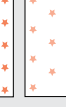

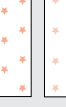

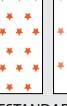

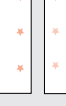

quantity, timing & intensity

Before choosing a package of aerial fireworks it is important that you know that the amount of effects distributed in certain time determines the intensity of the display.

The shorter the time, the greater the intensity because the effects are detonated faster one from another.

fireworks simulator indoor fountain display machine no powder

Safety is always the number one concern when dealing with these types of effects. Traditional effects burn at 1200 degrees Fahrenheit, and cannot be stopped once they have been started. This can lead to all kinds of hazards and problems.

The SPARKULAR MACHINE operates at such cool temperatures; the sparks themselves are not flammable. The machines are also very smart and have multiply built-in safety protocols. You can control the start and stop of the effect at anytime, so the machine cannot be abused in an manner. You now can control the time, height, volume this has never been achieved from a machine ever. This is beginning of a new technology to the world of stage of effects.
